The Third Jihad Big in the News

The New York Times attacked the New York City Police Department's decision to show our critically acclaimed film, The Third Jihad: Radical Islam's Vision for America, on the front page of its Jan. 26, 2012 edition. The film was shown during training to close to 1,500 of its lieutenants, detectives and patrol officers.

The Third Jihad takes an in-depth look at the process of radicalization and indoctrination of American Muslims taking place on American soil and is a powerful educational tool that has been used by law enforcement across the country.

While the NYT made no concrete attempt to deal with the facts presented in the film, the Times story was riddled with inaccuracies that they later made no attempt to correct. The story was picked up by major media outlets across the globe.

Director of The Third Jihad: Times Attack is Cultural Jihad in Action*by Wayne Kopping*

"We were not aware that the NYPD was using the film, but when we learned of it some months ago, we were pleased that the officers would have an opportunity to learn about the indoctrination taking place in certain segments of Muslim society in America. The film reveals what viewers are unlikely to see on the evening news: What terrorists, radical preachers and Islamists are saying in their own words, in their own mosques and media, to their followers."

"The film exposes how radicals employ the dual strategies of "violent Jihad," along with a 'cultural Jihad,' through which Islamist groups use coercion and non-violent means to gradually expand their influence over Western society.

"Now, Mayor Bloomberg, The New York Times and others want to bar law enforcement officers from seeing the film. The question is, why?"

Why Is HAMAS Inside Tampa Schools?

By Clare Lopez

Kelly Miliziano, who teaches history classes at Steinbrenner High School in the Tampa, Florida area apparently thinks it's perfectly OK to invite a senior official of a HAMAS-affiliated organization into her classroom to discuss Islam with her students. According to local media reports, not only has this been going on for years, but in spite of the civil and criminal proceedings that could result from such reckless negligence, the Hillsborough County school superintendent, Mary Ellen Elia, and the chairman of the school board, Candy Olson, also expressed approval for students under their responsibility to be exposed repeatedly to guest speaker, Hassan Shibly, who is the Executive Director for the Council on American-Islamic Relations (CAIR) in the Tampa area.

Sen. Mark Kirk, Fighter For Iranian Dissidents Suffers Stroke

Senator Mark Kirk (Illinois), who started an Iranian Dissidents Awareness program so that members of Congress and all Americans can stand with the people of Iran, suffered a stroke over the weekend of Jan.23. At press time, doctors say that Kirk, 52, was alert and responding to questions. The doctors expect Kirk, who was in good health at the time of the stroke, to recovery all his mental faculties. Kirk started the Dissident Awareness program to fight for the persecuted, the dissidents and the political prisoners, saying, "We cannot turn a blind eye to their struggle."

A reader from Norway, re: our movie, Obsession, writes:

"What a hot current topic this is! Just today the news came out in Norway, "officially" and in spite of all the PC-ness of this government, that according to the national security forces, the threat of Islamist terrorism is the foremost threat against Norway. You probably remember the July 22 shootings. One of Breivik's arguments was that the authorities were not taking this threat seriously because you musn't offend a Muslim. Interesting development."

Another reader from Norway writes: "I'm from Norway and one does start to realize that the Muslim immigration is beginning to be a problem. I was out with some friends, and we were passing by Muslims three years older than us, like 18 years old. They blocked the way and wanted to beat us -- or me and another guy -- just because we are white and not Muslim. I didn't know what to do ... there were more and more of them. An old lady called the police. When the police came, the Muslims said we were racist."

New York Times bestselling author and Islam expert Robert Spencer offers an honest and telling portrait of the founder of Islam, perhaps the first such portrait in half a century. With extensive documentation from the sources that Muslims themselves consider most reliable, Spencer details Muhammad's development from a preacher of hellfire and damnation into a political and military leader who expanded his rule by force of arms, promising his warriors luridly physical delights in Paradise if they were killed in his cause. He explains how the Qur'an's teaching on warfare against non-believers developed. In The Truth about Muhammad, you'll learn about Muhammad's convenient "revelations" justifying his own licentiousness; his joy in the brutal murders of his enemies; how Muhammad set legal standards that make it virtually impossible to prove rape in Islamic countries; how Muhammad's example justifies jihad and terrorism. Recognizing the true nature of Islam, Spencer argues, is essential for judging the prospects for large scale Islamic reform and protecting the United States. Buy The Truth About Muhammad
